

Halloween 2018 parties on Long Island

Halloween is without question one of the nightlife world's top holidays — and unlike other occasions when fashion is key, on Halloween we can dress up as anything we like. Oct. 31 falls on a Wednesday in 2018--and that means parties will be popping up all over the weekdays before and after. Here's a guide to some of the top spooky soirees, boo-bashes and monster mashes taking place on Long Island this year.
