The Main Event and more Long Island restaurants to try this weekend

It will be hard enough to watch the Patriots and the Rams in Super Bowl LIII this weekend, especially as the mourning period continues over the Jets' and Giants' RIP seasons.

But there are spots where you can gather, have some sporty food, and think ahead while quietly cheering for L.A.

Post Office Cafe in Babylon has been in business for 40-plus years. It's an informal destination for lunch, dinner, and Sunday brunch. Recommended: Thai calamari; crisp cod and carne asada tacos; pastrami-and-corned beef Reuben; grilled chicken club sandwich; four-cheese macaroni and cheese; fish and chips made with cod; cheeseburger with bacon-onion marmalade. Moderate.
