

LIFESTYLE / RESTAURANTS

Valentine's Day restaurants: Picks for Long Island's most romantic eateries

Updated January 23, 2018 9:50 AM

PRINT SEE COMMENTS SHARE ↵

No shopping, no cooking, no cleaning up — the very idea of dining out is romantic. But on Valentine's Day, the stakes are higher. Roses and violins aren't necessary, but good service, soft lighting and, most of all, exceptional food are nonnegotiable.

Here are some Long Island restaurants that fit the romantic bill.

Hurry up and make a reservation if you want a table for two.

Selections by Newsday's food staff.

View

Photo Credit: View

View (3 Consuelo Pl., Oakdale): This seafood eatery offers sweeping nautical views of the Great South Bay from indoors. More info: 631-589-2694